The Strategic Performance Management System (SPMS) is a mechanism that links employee performance with organizational performance to enhance the performance orientation of the compensation system. It ensures that the employee achieves the objectives set by the organization and the organization, on the other hand, achieves the objectives that it has set as its strategic plan.

The SPMS Objectives are: (a) to concretize the linkage of organizational performance with the Philippine Development Plan, Agency Strategic Plan, and Organizational Performance Indicator Framework OPIF; (b) to ensure organizational and individual effectiveness by cascading institutional accountabilities to the various levels of the organization; and (c) to link performance management with other HR systems.

More importantly, the SPMS complements the Results-Based Performance Management System that is implemented by the Office of the President and that links organizational performance to societal goals. It is also linked to the Performance-Based Incentive System (PBIS) that consists of the Productivity Enhancement Incentive (PEI) and the Performance-Based Bonus (PBB).

Committee: Performance Management Team (PMT)

The SPMS has the following basic elements:

a. Goals that are aligned to agency mandate and organizational priorities
b. System that is outputs/outcomes-oriented
c. A team approach to performance management
d. Forms that are user-friendly and show alignment of individual and organizational goals
e. Information systems that support monitoring and evaluation
f. A Communication Plan

These shall serve as bases in the office's and individual employee's preparation of their performance contract and rating form.

b. Performance Monitoring and Coaching - The performance of the office and every individual shall be regularly monitored at various levels. Monitoring and evaluation mechanisms ensure that timely and appropriate steps can be taken to keep a program on track, and that its objectives or goals are met in the most effective manner. Managers and supervisors act as coaches and mentors to provide an enabling environment/intervention to improve team performance, and to manage and develop individual potentials.

c. Performance Review and Evaluation - This phase aims to assess both office's and individual employee's performance level based on performance targets and measures as approved in the office and individual performance commitment contracts. Part of the individual employee's evaluation is the competency assessment vis-à-vis the competency requirements of the job. The assessment shall focus on the strengths, competency-related performance gaps and the opportunities to address these gaps, career paths, and alternatives.

d. Performance Rewarding and Development Planning - The results of the performance evaluation/assessment shall serve as inputs for the agency's HR Plan, which includes identification and provision of developmental interventions, and conferment of rewards and incentives.

Forms to be used for Targets and Accomplishments, and to be submitted on set deadlines:
